05 · Teacher and parent guide

Part A is for the teacher (with the class checklist). Part B is the take-home note for parents and carers.

Part A · For the teacher

This week in one line: no new ideas. Children copy, change, then make their own AB pattern (Use–Modify–Create). It is the last practice week before the Week 9 pattern hunt.

Get ready (15 minutes before class)

- Print the three station signs, the move cards and the blank A–B strips (Printables PDF).
- Cut the paper scraps or fabric pieces yourself, all bigger than a toilet-roll opening. Put out glue sticks.
- Stand the cardboard Ayo at Station 3 so children can “show” Ayo their dance.
- Read the lesson spec the evening before and lay out the cards.

Why Use–Modify–Create?

Children who copy first and change one thing before inventing are far more successful at making their own. Coders learn the same way: use some code, change it, then write their own.

> RhinoBot tip
> At the Modify station, keep it to one change. If a child changes everything, praise the new pattern and say: “Now try changing just one move.”

Key words and hand signs

Word	Say it like this	Hand sign
make	“Build something.”	Build with fists
my own	“Mine. I thought of it.”	Hand on chest
change	“Make it different.”	Swap hands
pattern	“It repeats.”	Draw waves in the air

Class observation checklist (tick ✓ when seen; leave blank if not yet)

Observation only, not marked. Any child not yet making their own pattern gets extra Create turns in Week 10 revision.

Part B · Take-home note for parents and carers

This week your child made their own pattern. First we copied a dance, then we changed one move, then each child made their own AB dance for Ayo.

Try this at home (5 minutes)

1. Ask your child to teach you their pattern dance. Do it together three times.
2. Change one move together: “Let’s swap clap for stamp!”
3. Make a pattern with spoons and cups, or with fabric scraps from old clothes.
